

HTML Beginner Exercises (10 Clear & Structured Tasks)

These exercises gradually increase in complexity but stay within basic HTML only. All text and expected output are provided. Students focus ONLY on HTML structure and tags.

Exercise 1: Basic Page Structure

Task:

Create a full HTML document using `html`, `head`, `title`, and `body`.

Use this exact content:

Title:
My HTML Practice

Paragraph:
This is my first web page.

Expected Browser Output:

Browser Tab:
My HTML Practice

Page Content:
This is my first web page.

Exercise 2: Multiple Paragraphs

Task:

Add two paragraphs inside the body.

Use this exact content:

Paragraph 1:
HTML is easy to learn.

Paragraph 2:
Practice makes progress.

Expected Browser Output:

HTML is easy to learn.
Practice makes progress.

Exercise 3: Using div to Group Content

Task:

Wrap both paragraphs inside a single `div`.

Use this exact content:

Paragraph 1:
This content is inside a `div`.

Paragraph 2:
`Divs` help organize content.

Expected Browser Output:

This content is inside a `div`.
`Divs` help organize content.

Exercise 4: Inline Text with span

Task:

Use span to wrap one word in the sentence.

Use this exact content:

Sentence:

Learning HTML is important.

Expected Browser Output:

Learning HTML is important.

Exercise 5: Bold, Italic, and Underline

Task:

Use b, i, and u tags correctly.

Use this exact content:

Bold:

HTML Basics

Italic:

Web Development

Underline:

Start Today

Expected Browser Output:

HTML Basics (bold)

Web Development (italic)

Start Today (underlined)

Exercise 6: Subscript and Superscript

Task:

Use sub and sup tags.

Use this exact content:

Subscript:

CO₂

Superscript:

a³

Expected Browser Output:

CO₂■

a³

Exercise 7: Preformatted Text

Task:

Use pre to preserve spacing.

Use this exact content:

Text:

Line 1

Line 2

Line 3

Expected Browser Output:

```
Line 1
  Line 2
    Line 3
```

Exercise 8: Abbreviations

Task:

Use abbr with a title attribute.

Use this exact content:

```
Abbreviation:
HTML (HyperText Markup Language)
```

Expected Browser Output:

```
HTML (hover shows: HyperText Markup Language)
```

Exercise 9: Image with Attributes

Task:

Add an image using img tag with src and alt.

Use this exact content:

```
Alt text:
Learning HTML Image
```

Expected Browser Output:

```
[Image displayed]
Alt text shown if image fails to load
```

Exercise 10: Link Opening in New Tab

Task:

Create a link using a with href and target="_blank".

Use this exact content:

```
Link text:
Go to Example

URL:
https://example.com
```

Expected Browser Output:

```
Go to Example (opens in a new tab)
```

Final Note: Do NOT add CSS or extra tags. Use only the tags mentioned in each exercise.